

Dairying can be a rollercoaster ride. High grain prices and sustained low milk prices have made it hard for many dairy farmers to make a profit. After generations in the district, Ken and Maz Woodmason thought they may have to sell the farm, but with some financial support and management advice they're back on track and looking forward to a positive and profitable future.

1. Taking action

2. Contact with help

3. Financial assessment

4. Planning

5. Ongoing support

Case Study Video

NEXT ▶

PAUSED

0:00:00.000

Case study menu

Taking the first step

Planning for the future

Life after farming

Farm Help

Contacts

Exit